

W. H. Carroll added another story to his restaurant building at a cost of $1,000. some frame building on the corner of Beaver street and Cherry avenue, was finished in December at a cost of $800.

J. C. Grim, contractor and builder, During 1898 a number of business blocks will be rebuilt. In fact, the furnishes The Sun with the following list of buildings finished by him during 1897: plans and specifications for two fine buildings have been made, for buildings to be erected on the corners of

E. S. Gosney, frame residence, corner Park and Birch streets, at a cost of $1,200. Leroux street and Aspen avenue.

J. W. Thurber, frame cottage on Aspen avenue, which cost $1,200. T. J. Coalter will build a two-story modern brick building on the southeast corner of Aspen avenue and Leroux

SYKES' BROS. FOUNDRY AND MACHINE SHOP.

A two-room cottage for E. S. Gosney at a cost of $300. street. It will be 25x50 feet and will be fitted up for a postoffice and other

Besides he has made improvements on various buildings which aggregate $1,500. business. Mr. Coalter, the new postmaster, believes that the postoffice should have better quarters and is

A. B. Binkley erected a one story and a half dwelling on south side railroad at a cost of $1,000. going to give the public the benefit of a new building.

Other work, barns and repair work made by other contractors, is estimated at $2,500. J. W. Weatherford will erect a handsome two-story brick, with basement, 30x100 feet. The basement will be nine feet in the clear. The first story will

The Catholic schoolhouse, a hand- be nineteen feet from floor to ceiling.